Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

On December 1, 2019, RAPT Therapeutics, Inc. (the “Company”) entered into a Collaboration and License Agreement (the “Agreement”) with Hanmi Pharmaceutical Co., Ltd, a corporation organized under the laws of the Republic of Korea (“Hanmi”), with an effective date of December 3, 2019 (the “Effective Date”), pursuant to which the Company granted Hanmi the exclusive rights to develop, manufacture and commercialize FLX475, the Company’s oral, small molecule CCR4 antagonist in development for the treatment of multiple cancers (the “Product”), with respect to human cancers (the “Field”) in the Republic of Korea, the Republic of China (Taiwan), and the People’s Republic of China, including the special administrative regions of Macau and Hong Kong (together, the “Territory”) and certain sublicense rights. In consideration of such rights, under the Agreement the Company will receive $10.0 million in an upfront payment and expected near-term milestone payment, and is eligible to receive (i) additional contingent payments of up to $108.0 million upon the achievement of specified milestones, consisting of up to $48.0 million based on the dosing of the first patient in a Phase 3 clinical trial in the Territory and the filing and approval of a new drug application in the Territory and up to $60.0 million based on annual net sales, and (ii) low double-digit royalties on future net sales of the Product in the Territory. Royalties will be payable on a product-by-product and country-by-country basis for a period commencing with the first commercial sale until the latest of (a) the expiration of the relevant patent right, (b) the expiration of regulatory or data exclusivity granted by the applicable governmental authority, and (c) 5 years from such first commercial sale (the “Royalty Term”); provided that the royalties will be reduced by 50% if the product in question is not covered by a valid claim during the Royalty Term in the applicable country.

The Agreement contains various representations and warranties, covenants and other provisions that are customary for a transaction of this nature. The representations, warranties and covenants contained in the Agreement were made only for purposes of the Agreement and as of specific dates, were solely for the benefit of the parties to the Agreement, and may be subject to limitations agreed upon by the parties. The representations and warranties may have been made for the purposes of allocating contractual risk between the parties to the Agreement instead of establishing these matters as facts.

The term of the Agreement will continue until Hanmi’s royalty payment obligations have expired, unless sooner terminated by either party pursuant to the terms of the Agreement, including in connection with material breach by, or insolvency of, the other party.

The foregoing summary of the Agreement is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Agreement, a copy of which will be filed as an exhibit to the Company’s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2019.

The Company also entered into the Company’s standard form of indemnification agreement with Dr. Gray. The indemnification agreement provides, among other things, that the Company will indemnify Dr. Gray for certain expenses which she may be required to pay in connection with certain claims to which she may be made a party by reason of her position as a director of the Company, and otherwise to the fullest extent permitted under Delaware law and the Company’s Amended and Restated Bylaws.
